

HIRE SKILLS, NOT STEREOTYPES

Advocacy Video Script (Extended 5-Minute Edition)

Theme: Gender discrimination in workplace hiring [cite: 1, 2]

Target Duration: 5 Minutes [cite: 1, 2]

Cast: 6 Members (Applicants, Interviewer, Narrator, Crew) [cite: 1]

SCENE 1: THE PREPARATION (1 Minute)

LOCATION: Bedroom / Study Area

Visual: A montage of the Female Lead studying industry reports and practicing in a mirror.

NARRATOR (MEMBER 3):

"Preparation is the foundation of success. For some, it is the only way to prove they belong in a room that wasn't built for them. [cite: 1, 2] In this story, we see two paths. One paved with hard work, and one paved with unconscious bias." [cite: 1, 2]

SCENE 2: THE QUALIFIED INTERVIEW (2 Minutes)

LOCATION: Office Setup

INTERVIEWER (MEMBER 2):

"Your resume is impressive, but being a Manager requires 'toughness.' How would you handle a team of veteran employees who might not take direction from a woman?" [cite: 1, 2]

FEMALE APPLICANT (MEMBER 1):

"In my previous role, I managed a team of fifteen during a high-stakes merger. I don't lead through 'toughness'; I lead through data-driven decisions and clear communication. My gender doesn't dictate my ability to read a balance sheet or resolve a conflict. My track record does." [cite: 1, 2]

*Reaction Shot: Show the Interviewer looking down at notes, appearing unimpressed.
(5-10 seconds) [cite: 1, 2]*

SCENE 3: THE UNPREPARED SUCCESS (1 Minute)

LOCATION: Same Office

Visual: Male applicant walks in casually, checking his phone. [cite: 1, 2]

INTERVIEWER:

"The role is demanding. What's your philosophy on leadership?" [cite: 1, 2]

MALE APPLICANT (MEMBER 4):

"Uh, I'm a people person. I usually just wing it and things work out. I'm a natural leader, you know? One of the guys." [cite: 1, 2]

INTERVIEWER (SMILING):

"I like your energy. You seem like a 'good fit' for the culture here. You're hired."
[cite: 1, 2]

SCENE 4: THE ADVOCACY FINALE (1 Minute)

LOCATION: Neutral Backdrop / All Cast

MEMBER 1:

"Women are capable leaders." [cite: 1, 2]

MEMBER 4:

"Men and women deserve equal opportunities." [cite: 1, 2]

MEMBER 2:

"Bias should have no place in hiring." [cite: 1, 2]

MEMBER 3:

"Respect skills, not stereotypes." [cite: 1, 2]

MEMBER 5:

"Equality starts in the workplace." [cite: 1]

MEMBER 6:

"Change begins with awareness." [cite: 1]

HIRE SKILLS, NOT STEREOTYPES

Gender should never define opportunity.

This scenario reflects real-world gender bias in recruitment. [cite: 1, 2]
